NATIONAL SKILLS WEEK

August 27th – September 2nd, 2018

National Skills Week continues to attract overwhelming support following a survey of stakeholders who confirmed the importance of having a dedicated week to highlight VET, Industry trends and the link between training and jobs.

Every year since its inception in 2011, National Skills Week has recognised, celebrated and informed students and the wider public of the diversity, benefits and career pathways associated with Vocational Education and Training (VET).

It has established an enviable heritage and continues to grow each year.

The central thrust of National Skills Week is that it provides the motivation for stakeholders, be they Career Advisors, Industry Associations or a Registered Training Organisation (RTO) to do something that promotes VET and the successful outcomes it achieves for the individual, industry and importantly the Australian economy.

The week will communicate the emerging trends and new growth drivers connecting skills training with job outcomes.

Keep up to date with information on National Skills Week and SkillsOne websites, National Skills Week newsletters, and across our social media channels.
